About Me

IATSE Local 484 has been my home since 2008, and I have been styling hair since I was old enough to enroll in cosmetology school. I enjoy exploring my own passion and encouraging others to do the same.

HISTORY

ALISSA SHORES

About Me

2008

I landed my first job in the film industry as Key Hair on the Tree of Life.

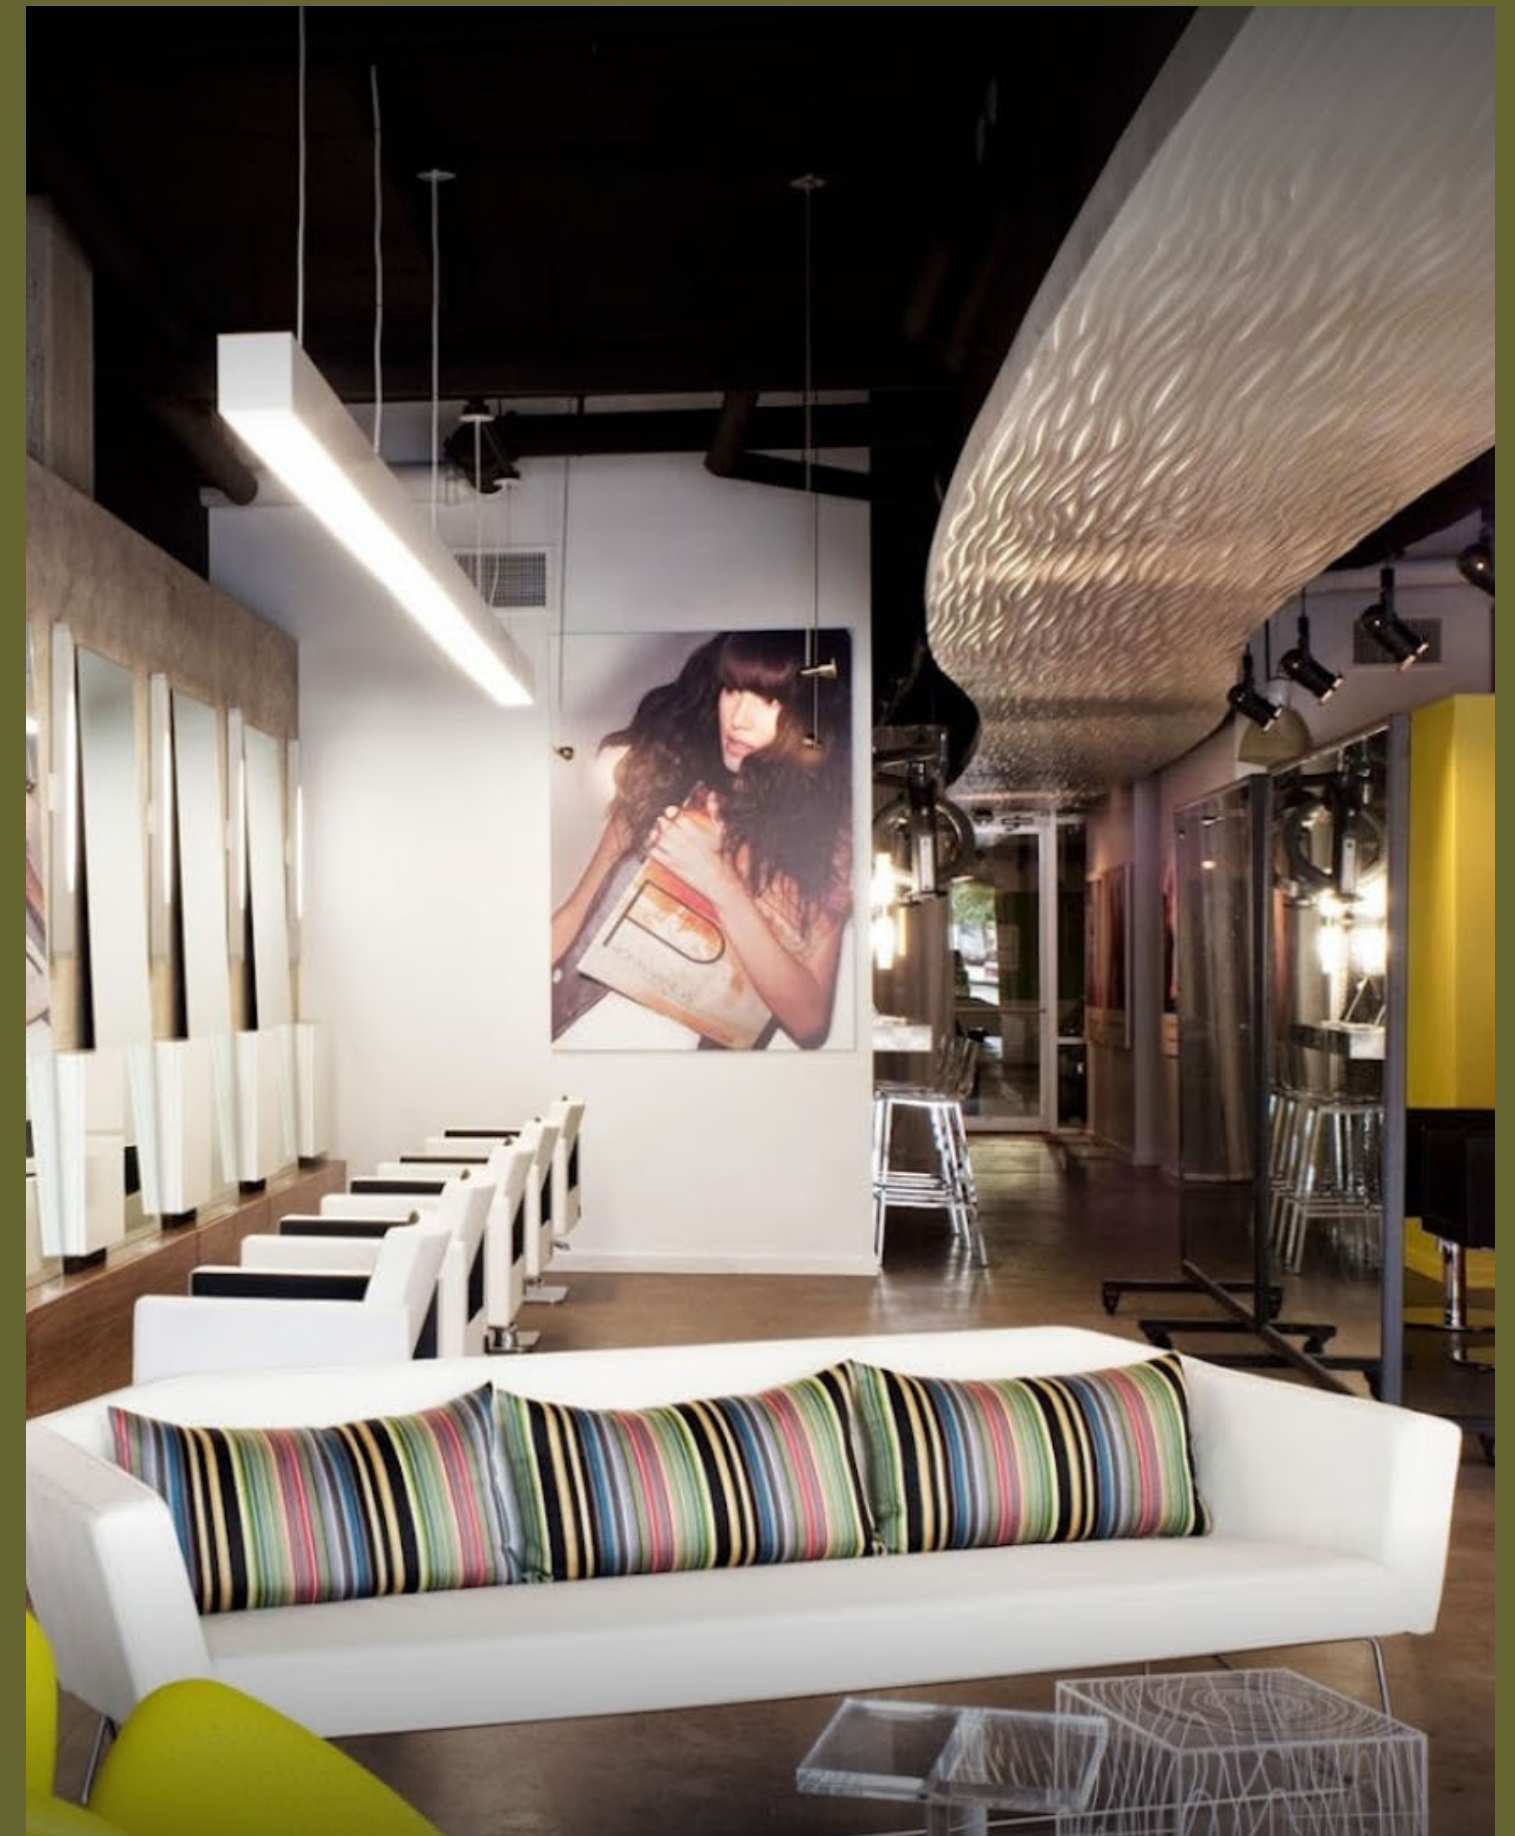

2017

To broaden my skillset, I left film to work behind the chair, which led me to Paris Fashion Week.

History

- Salon Education

Leaving the industry in 2017 was motivated by the desire to learn and grow. Among the many things I have done is complete a 12-month haircutting internship at Propaganda Hair Group, a straight razor workshop with Pony Salon, and a Dry Haircutting internship at Deep Roots Salon.

History

2019

In 2019, I returned to filmmaking with Fear the Walking Dead season 5. With all the downtime during the pandemic, my interest in bridal hair grew.

- Bridal Hair

As I contemplated whether to pursue film or continue to daydream about starting my own company, I finally launched a bridal hair business in 2021 to generate income.

About Me

● Bridal Education

Furthermore, I have completed several Bridal Hair education courses, including Hair Boss University and Tonya's Master Class. Over the years, I have taken a number of bridal styling continuing education courses.

About Me

● Published Work

Working with photographers and being creative continued to be a part of my life.

Since I have been exposed to editorial work, I have become more adept at styling hair, and I hope to encourage more people to do the same.

MOON AGE

In the year 2022, my makeup artist friend Clare Robinette and I embarked on an exciting venture and introduced a remarkable hair and makeup team named Moon Age Bridal. The launch of our team proved to be an enormous triumph, and we have been steadily expanding ever since.
